FOOTBALL OUTLOOK

Ohio State will not surprise anyone in 1980, for the Buckeyes will likely be rated as the pre-season Big Ten favorite.

"This will be a big challenge for us, being picked to win the conference championship," observes Coach Earle Bruce. "I don't know how well we will react to this, but it's a nice position to be in.

"We think we are going to have a good football team. We are fairly experienced except in the offensive line. We have good speed and the team attitude is great. Some positions concern me, but this is always the case.

"There won't be any great changes in our offense or defense. We'll still work for the big play. We want to be versatile on offense, to take what the defense gives us."

Personnel

There are 44 lettermen, including 15 starters from last season. One defensive regular, Luther Henson, moves to offensive tackle to beef up an inexperienced line.

The strength of the team is at the skill positions. There is an exceptional quarterback in Art Schlichter. The defense figures to be rugged and aggressive. The kicking game may well be the best in the country.

There is a shortage of offensive linemen, fullbacks and defensive tackles. Injuries at these positions would be especially serious.

DEFENSE

Coordinator Dennis Fryzel and his staff did yeomen duty in 1979, taking a suspect defense and molding it into a formidable unit.

With eight starters returning, the defense is well seasoned. There is good quickness and the team goes to the ball aggressively. The positions to be filled are at one outside linebacker spot, defensive left tackle and left corner.

Line

Jerome Foster is the most experienced and proven tackle. He is steady, determined and fast.

The replacement for Henson on the left side will come from three athletes, Tony Megaro, Chris Riehm or Reggie Echols. Megaro has an edge because of experience. He is a rugged, all-out player who moved from linebacker to tackle the last four games in 1979. Riehm is inexperienced but has a bright future. A knee injury slowed his progress last year. Echols came to Ohio State as a walk-on and played extremely well last year.

Tim Sawicki and Mark Sullivan are two small but active middle guards. Sawicki is quick, strong and difficult to block. He became a settling influence on Ohio State's defensive line last year. Sullivan, at 209, is even smaller, but he too is fast and determined. Former linebacker Tom Blinco has been moved to middle guard to provide added depth. Blinco is steady and dependable.

Linebackers

Keith Ferguson returns at the left outside linebacking position. He is a proven standout with all the needed requirements. Ferguson may be one of the best at his position in all of college football.

On the right side will be Ben Lee, a quick, clever athlete. He has a slight edge over Mike D'Andrea, who is an especially hard hitter. Leon Ellison has moved into contention because of an excellent spring practice.

At the interior linebacking positions, Ohio State may have the finest duo in the country.

Marcus Marek is a remarkable athlete. As a freshman in 1979, his ability to tackle, ward off blocks and diagnose opponent plays reached a level rarely found in a first-year player.

Alvin Washington led the team in tackles last year. He has excellent lateral movement and ranges from sideline to sideline. This is his third year as a starter.

A third linebacker, Glen Cobb, is a gifted athlete. Quiet, mature beyond his years, and intensely competitive, Cobb is headed for stardom.

John Epitropoulos would normally be a starter except for the unusual linebacker talent. There is no question about his ability to help.

Secondary

Todd Bell is one of the top athletes on the squad. He has the speed, strength and size to make an ideal rover back. Bell is a good bet for national honors. Behind him is Rod Gorley, another versatile athlete who needs only game experience to become a standout.

Vince Skillings will move from safety to left corner. Small, but very fast and reliable, Skillings is a top-rated defender. Depth will come from Mark Eberts, a running back in high school.

Ray Ellis will start at right corner. Experienced and highly capable, Ellis is equally strong against the run or the pass. Norman Burrows is another fine defender, who can play any of three positions in the secondary. Another hopeful is Doyle Lewis, who lettered in 1979.

The safety is Bob Murphy, who played 106 minutes last year. He has a penchant for being around the ball and for making great plays. Tim Galloway, inexperienced but eager, is the top replacement.

OFFENSE

The Buckeyes are well set at quarterback, running back, split end and flanker.

The major concern is the offensive line, where tackle Joe Lukens and tight end Brad Dwelle are the lone holdovers.

Line

Brad Dwelle is the likely starter at tight end, with Ron Barwig and Linwood Marshall in reserve. Dwelle was the only tight end to avoid injury in 1979 and he became a solid player. Barwig has had a disheartening series of injuries throughout his career. An ankle operation in May revealed excess calcium. A healthy Barwig would be a big lift for Ohio State. Marshall moved from defense to tight end midway in spring drills. He played tight end in high school.

Gary Williams can become a great split end. He has fine speed, sure hands and is an outstanding athlete. Depth will come from Doug Pauley, a reserve, and from several talented freshmen.

Lukens and Henson give Ohio State two excellent tackles. As a freshman, Lukens started all but the opener last year and performed at the level of an upperclassman. He has a rare understanding of the game.

Henson, a senior, has not played offense in college. He has all the physical requirements to be a good offensive tackle and needs only to familiarize himself with the blocking adjustments and techniques.

Tackle depth is thin and unproven. Tom Levenick will be invaluable if he recovers from knee surgery last May. Steve Corbin has the necessary tools, but needs playing experience. Help from freshmen is needed.

Backfield

There is no better college quarterback in the country than Schlichter. Smart, extremely talented and durable, he holds or will hold virtually all the Ohio State records for passing and for total offense. His rare ability to pull off a great play from any point on the field makes him a top candidate for the 1980 Heisman Trophy.

Versatile Bob Atha is a solid number-two quarterback. He is a fine athlete and has an ideal temperament.

Ohio State has four good tailbacks. Cal Murray, last year's leading ground gainer, heads the list. Blessed with excellent balance, Murray has a knack for eluding tackles and picking up additional yardage. Jim Gayle, Ricky Johnson and Kelvin Lindsey supply excellent depth. Gayle has good acceleration and is a break-away threat. Johnson is a slashing runner with surprising power, while Lindsey has good speed and a variety of moves.

Doug Donley may be Ohio State's best pass receiver in history. He has 63 career receptions for the Buckeyes, including 37 for 800 yards last year. One of the fastest men on the team, Donley has good hands and great concentration. Alvin Taylor will play behind Donley, although there are several promising freshmen.

Tim Spencer has been moved to fullback. While not big by fullback standards, Spencer has explosive speed. Depth will come from Cliff Belmer, another quick-hitting back and from Joel Payton, trying to regain his 1977 form, when he led the Big Ten in scoring.

Kicking

Punter Tom Orosz is one of the best in the nation. He averaged 43.7 in 1978 and 41.5 last year. Vlade Janakievski has kicked more extra points, 127, and more field goals, 26, than any kicker in Ohio State history. Bob Atha consistently booms kickoffs into the end zone.

EARLE BRUCE—HEAD FOOTBALL COACH

Earle Bruce

Earle Bruce was an unqualified success in his first year as head football coach at Ohio State. He guided an unranked Buckeye team to a perfect 11-0 regular season mark to win the Big Ten championship outright. Only a 17-16 loss to Southern California in the Rose Bowl kept Ohio State from a probable National Championship.

It was fitting that Earle Bruce was named "1979 College Coach of the Year" by the Football Coaches' Association, by the Football Writers and by U.P.I. He was honored by countless clubs and organizations throughout the country for his outstanding coaching job at Ohio State.

Bruce was born in Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania and moved to Cumberland, Maryland at age ten. He was a star halfback and top sprinter in high school. He enrolled at Ohio State in the fall of 1949, but a serious knee injury as a freshman ruined his football career as a player. He reinjured his knee prior to the 1951 season and had to drop football. Discouraged and tempted to drop out of college, he was persuaded by Coach Woody Hayes to remain and get a degree. Woody's persistence paid off, for Bruce did remain in school and graduated on schedule in the spring of 1953.

Bruce launched his coaching career in the fall of 1953 as an assistant at Mansfield Senior High in Mansfield, Ohio. His first opportunity as head coach came in 1956 at Salem. Four years later, he moved to Sandusky and in 1964 he became head coach at Massillon. In ten years as a head coach in high school, Bruce's teams compiled an impressive 82-12-3 record. He was 28-9 at Salem, 34-3-3 at Sandusky and 20-0 at Massillon. He holds the rare distinction of being named "Ohio High School Coach of the Year" three times, in 1960, 1964 and again in 1965. He ended his high school coaching career with a 42-game winning streak intact.

At this point, Bruce left the high school ranks to become an assistant at Ohio State in 1966. For two years, he served as defensive backfield coach and when a staff realignment took place in 1968, he moved to offense as coach of the guards and centers.

During his six years at Ohio State, the Buckeyes won three Big Ten championships, one national title, played in two Rose Bowl games and compiled a 43-14 record.

Bruce left Ohio State in 1972 to become head coach at the University of Tampa. He was an immediate success. The 1972 Tampa team had a 10-2 record, including a Tangerine Bowl win over Kent State, Mid-American Conference champion.

The following year Bruce was named head coach at Iowa State in the powerful Big Eight Conference. Victories were hard to come by at Iowa State, where the school had enjoyed only two winning seasons in ten years.

The first two years were moderately successful with 4-7 records. Hopes were high the third year, but a rash of injuries caused still another 4-7 mark.

After three straight 4-7 seasons, Earle's hard work and dedication paid off as Iowa State recorded three consecutive 8-3 marks. This was the first time in 54 years that the Cyclones had enjoyed three straight winning seasons. In two of these years, Bruce was named "Big Eight Coach of the Year" and in 1977 and 1978, Iowa State received bowl bids. Cyclone football was on its soundest base in many years thanks to Bruce.

In January of 1979, when Ohio State suddenly needed a head football coach, Bruce was the choice. He eagerly accepted.

Coach Bruce

On January 12, he said at his first press conference in Columbus, "This is like a dream come true for me. I consider Ohio State the top coaching job in the country and I will do all I can to make sure it stays that way."

Bruce was uniquely qualified to be head football coach at Ohio State. He knew about the University because he graduated from Ohio State. He understood the structure of Ohio high schools since he coached for 13 years in the state. He had a first hand knowledge of problems facing Big Ten coaches since he had spent six years as an assistant at Ohio State. He had proven himself as a head coach on the college level with seven years of experience, six of which were spent in one of the top football conferences in the country.

Bruce has been a successful coach on all levels, ranging from high school to major college competition. Those who followed his coaching career knew that he was ideally suited for the Ohio State coaching job and that he was just the man to continue Ohio State's great tradition of football success. It took Bruce only one year to accomplish this.

Earle is a well-organized administrator who places great emphasis on pre-game planning. He is a good recruiter, an excellent public speaker and a strong spokesman for college football. He can develop and motivate talent and is at his best when matching football strategy on the sidelines.

Earle and his wife, Jean, have four daughters, Lynn, Michele, Aimee and Noel.

ASSISTANT COACHES
OFFENSE
GLEN MASON—Offense Coordinator

Glen Mason

Glen Mason is starting his third year with the Ohio State football staff. In 1978, his first year with the Buckeyes, Mason coached the outside linebackers. In 1979, he coached the guards and centers on offense and while he will continue to coach these positions in 1980, he has additional responsibilities as offense coordinator.

Mason is a 1972 graduate of Ohio State. His coaching career began as a graduate assistant at Ball State in 1972. The following year he went to Allegheny College and in 1974 returned to Ball State. In 1975, Mason went to Iowa State to coach under Earle Bruce. Bruce knew Mason at Ohio State, when Glen was a member of the Buckeye football team and Bruce was an Ohio State assistant coach.

Mason spent the 1976 and '77 seasons at Illinois before coming to Ohio State in April, 1978.

Mason is a native of Colonia, New Jersey. As an undergraduate at Ohio State, he won a varsity letter in 1970 and figured to start at middle guard in 1971. A broken ankle one week before the season opener abruptly ended his playing career.

Glen and his wife, Sally, a former Ohio State cheerleader, have a son, Patrick, and a daughter, Chris.

BILL MYLES—Tackles and Tight Ends

Bill Myles

Bill Myles joined the Buckeye football staff in March, 1977. He is one of two assistants to be retained from the previous Ohio State staff by Coach Earle Bruce. Myles coaches the offensive tackles and tight ends.

A native of Kansas City, Myles graduated from Drake University in 1962 with a B.S. degree in education. As an undergraduate, he played center and linebacker.

After college, Myles began a coaching career as an assistant in high school in Kansas City. He became a head coach in 1965. His seven-year record was 45-20-3. During this period, he earned a master's degree from Central Missouri State in 1967.

In 1972, Myles went to the University of Nebraska as an assistant coach. He began as a freshman assistant, and after one year, he became offensive line coach. In 1975, Myles was moved to defense as linebacker coach, a position he held until coming to Ohio State.

Bill and his wife, Lorita, have two children, daughter Debbie and son, Billy.

WAYNE STANLEY—Running Backs

Wayne Stanley

Wayne Stanley was one of four assistant coaches to make the move from Iowa State to Ohio State, when Earle Bruce was named head coach of the Buckeyes.

Stanley, who is single, is the youngest member of the Buckeye staff. He was born June 22, 1954, in Belle Glade, Florida. An all-around athlete at Central High, Stanley lettered in football, track and basketball, and was an all-Florida quarterback attracting wide attention. He was in Earle Bruce's first recruiting class at Iowa State in 1973.

Stanley lettered four years at Iowa State and was co-captain of the 1976 Cyclone team. He shares the school record for the most career touchdown passes (25) as well as for the most touchdown passes in one game (4). He passed for 2,671 career yards which ranks fifth in Iowa State history. He guided the 1976 Iowa State team that ranked second nationally in total offense. In all, Stanley started 26 games at Iowa State.

Stanley spent the 1977 season as a student coach at Iowa State, while he completed work for his degree. The following year he became a full-time member of the coaching staff working with the running backs.

FRED ZECHMAN—Quarterbacks and Wide Receivers

Fred Zechman

Fred Zechman joined the Ohio State University football staff in January, 1979. He coaches the quarterbacks and wide receivers.

Zechman is a native of Sylvania, Ohio. He is a graduate of Capital University and played football there under Gene Slaughter, a former Ohio State football assistant.

Zechman had 12 years of coaching experience prior to joining the Ohio State staff. He began as an assistant at Capital in 1967. In 1969, he was a defense coordinator in high school at Franklin, Ohio. His first opportunity to become a head coach came in 1971 at Western Reserve High in Berlin Center. In 1973, he became head coach at Miami Trace High, where in six years his teams won 55, lost six and tied one. In the summer of 1978, Zechman coached the South All-Stars to an upset win over a heavily favored North team.

Zechman is a good student of football and has a keen, imaginative flair for offense. He wants to feature both running and passing in the offense.

Fred and his wife, Linda, have two children, son Eric, and daughter Gretchen.

DEFENSE

DENNIS FRYZEL—Defense Coordinator

Dennis Fryzel

Dennis Fryzel is the defense coordinator and coach of the interior linebackers. He joined the Buckeye staff in January, 1979, shortly after Earle Bruce was named head coach at Ohio State.

Fryzel is a native of Garfield Heights, Ohio and is a 1964 graduate of Denison University. He played four years of football at Denison.

He began his coaching career in the fall of 1964 as an assistant at Garfield Heights High School, his alma mater. In 1966 he went to Columbia University as backfield coach and in 1968 he went to Williams College in a similar capacity.

In 1972, he began an association with Earle Bruce, when he was named defense coordinator at the University of Tampa. When Bruce left to take the head coaching job at Iowa State in 1973, Fryzel was named head coach at Tampa. In two years, his teams posted a 14-8 record. When Tampa dropped football after the 1974 season, Fryzel was out of coaching for one year. In 1976 he went with the Tampa Bay Buccaneers but returned to college in 1977 as defense coordinator at Syracuse. He was an assistant at the Air Force Academy in 1978 before coming to Ohio State.

Fryzel and his wife, Gayle, have two daughters, Karen and Susan.

STEVE SZABO—Tackles and Middle Guards

Steve Szabo

Steve Szabo joined the Ohio State University football staff in January, 1979. He had been a member of Earle Bruce's Iowa State staff. Szabo's duties at Ohio State are to work with the defensive tackles and middle guards.

Szabo is a native of Evergreen Park, Illinois and a graduate of Mendel High School in Chicago. He was an honor student at Mendel and an all-Chicago football player. He attended the U.S. Naval Academy and majored in physics. At Navy, he lettered in football and lacrosse and won All-American honors in lacrosse.

After graduating from Navy, Szabo served four years in the Marines. Following his discharge in 1969, he began as an assistant coach at Johns Hopkins. He went to Toledo the following year and in 1971 went to Iowa. In 1974 Szabo went to Syracuse before going to Iowa State in 1977. In two years at Iowa State, Szabo developed two All-Americans and five all-Big Eight players.

Steve and his wife, Nancy, have two children, daughter Christine and son Michael.

BOB TUCKER—Outside Linebackers

Bob Tucker

Bob Tucker is Ohio State's outside linebacker coach. He joined the Buckeye staff in January of 1979. Tucker was one of four assistant coaches at Iowa State to accompany Earle Bruce to Ohio State.

Tucker is a native of Sandusky, Ohio. His high school coach was Earle Bruce. Following high school, Tucker went to Wooster College, where he graduated in 1965. He won three football letters at Wooster.

In 1966, Tucker went to Penn State as a graduate assistant, serving under Joe Paterno. He earned a master's degree in the spring of 1967.

He started his coaching career as an assistant in high school at Massillon, Ohio, in 1967. In 1969, he went to Wichita State University as an assistant and remained there until 1973, when he went to Iowa State to serve under Earle Bruce.

Tucker had 13 years of coaching experience prior to joining the Ohio State grid staff. This consists of 11 years on a university level and two years in high school.

Bob and his wife, Lynn, have two daughters, Diana and Michelle.

NICK SABAN—Defensive Backfield

Nick Saban

Nick Saban coaches the Ohio State secondary. He replaced Pete Carroll, who left the Ohio State staff after the 1980 Rose Bowl game, to become defense coordinator at North Carolina State University.

Saban is a native of Fairmont, West Virginia. He attended Monogah High in Fairmont, where he won all state honors in football, basketball and baseball.

Saban attended Kent State University and was a defensive back in football. He was a member of the 1972 Kent State team that played in the Tangerine Bowl. He graduated from college in 1973.

HIGHLIGHTS IN 1979

Art Schlichter (10) and Cal Murray (43) were two mainstays in the talented Buckeye backfield. Schlichter passed for 1,616 yards and ran for 430. Murray gained the most yards, 827, and carried the most times, 173.

Gary Williams caught a 67-yard scoring pass in the Rose Bowl. He caught 25 passes in his first year at split end.

Tom Orosz is one of the top punters in college football. He averaged 43.7 in 1978 and 41.5 last year.

THE OHIO

It all began in 1870, when the Ohio Legislature selected a plot of land on Neil Farm to be the site of a new college. With little fanfare the new school opened its doors September 17, 1873. There were 24 students, educated and housed in a single building. First known as Ohio Agricultural and Mechanical College, the name was changed to The Ohio State University in 1878.

Since this time Ohio State has enjoyed spectacular growth in stature and in size. In addition to its undergraduate program, Ohio State has become a nationally recognized center for research and graduate work.

The graduate enrollment is 9,746 which is the second largest on any single campus in the country. Enrollment in the professional colleges is 2,817, also second highest of any school in the nation.

Funding for research and other sponsored programs amounted to $63 million last year. Ohio State has its own Research Foundation and conducts studies and experiments in over 100 fields.

The Ohio State University is made up of 17 colleges and a Graduate School. There are nine special schools within the colleges.

Ohio State students may select from 181 undergraduate majors and approximately 6,900 courses. A master's degree can be taken in 114 study areas and a doctoral degree in 85.

University libraries include the Main Library and 35 area or departmental libraries. There are well over three million volumes.

The total enrollment, including those in evening classes, was 53,278 in the Autumn Quarter of 1979. The breakdown includes 32,878 full-time undergraduates, 12,563 in graduate and professional schools and 7,837 part-timers. There are 24,064 women students, 45 percent of the total enrollment. There are students from each of Ohio's 88 counties, from all 50 states and from 83 foreign countries. Foreign students total over 1,300.

STATE UNIVERSITY

The Columbus campus consists of 381 buildings on 3,255 acres. Additional acreage is owned in other portions of the state as well as properties and parcels of land outside the state. The replacement value of the land, buildings and equipment on the Columbus campus is $1,326,000,000.

The University has a teaching faculty of 3,750 with 76 percent holding doctoral degrees. Ohio State employs 13,300 non-teaching personnel in addition to the teaching faculty. The faculty-student ratio is less than 1-20.

Ohio State operates regional campuses at Lima, Mansfield, Marion and Newark, and has an Agricultural Institute and Research and Development Center at Wooster. The University conducts a Graduate Center at the Wright-Patterson Air Force Base near Dayton.

The Ohio State University Medical Center is one of the best-equipped and most comprehensive college-owned centers in the nation. It is currently undergoing a $97 million expansion made possible by federal, state and University funding.

Reflecting its commitment to the community, the University offers a variety of health clinics, continuing education programs, workshops and seminars, as well as cultural and recreational opportunities.

Harold L. Enarson has been President of The Ohio State University since September, 1972. Prior to this, he served six years as President of Cleveland State University.

The Enarson years at Ohio State can be described as marking the start of an "age of refinement." Heading into its second century, the University is undergoing a facelift—a new University Hall, renovated Hayes Hall, expanded and modernized University Hospitals and extensive new physical education facilities in Larkins Hall.

To meet the increasing demands for lifelong learning opportunities, Dr. Enarson has established "Program 60" to permit seniors citizens to attend classes tuition free. He is encouraging the expansion of evening programs and continuing education courses that now serve over 6,000 people annually.

Dr. Enarson's professional endeavors have been basically in four fields—labor relations, the health sciences, international education and higher education.

He has worked extensively in labor relations, especially in the handling of national emergency disputes. He was a budget examiner in the U.S. Bureau of the Budget in 1942 and '43 and again from 1946-1949.

He was a consultant on labor problems to the National Security Resources Board. This led to a White House post as special assistant on labor policy and wage stabilization. In 1952 Dr. Enarson received a presidential appointment as public member of the Wage Stabilization Board.

In the area of health sciences, Dr. Enarson has served on a number of national councils and committees, including the Surgeon General's Committee on Medical Manpower in 1960. He was a member of the task force for the Reorganization of the Public Health Service (H.E.W.) in 1967, and was a member of the National Health Council from 1968-1971.

His work in international education includes that of project director for a program of internships in Latin American education, as sponsored by the Ford Foundation. Dr. Enarson has conducted studies in Africa and in the Middle East and has directed assistance programs for U.S. sponsored universities throughout the world. He was consultant for the Ford Foundation in 1960 and 1961.

Dr. Enarson was executive director of the Western Interstate Commission for Higher Education for seven years. He was Academic Vice President of the University of New Mexico for six years prior to taking the presidency of Cleveland State University in 1966.

A native of Iowa, he holds a B.A. degree from the University of New Mexico in 1940; an M.A. from Stanford in 1946; a Ph.D. from The American University in 1951.

HUGH HINDMAN—DIRECTOR OF ATHLETICS

Hugh Hindman

As Director of Athletics at The Ohio State University, Hugh Hindman heads one of the largest and most comprehensive athletic programs in the nation. Ohio State has 30 intercollegiate sports, 16 for men, 12 for women and two that are co-educational. About 850 student-athletes are in competition each year. The operating budget for the 1980-81 school year is a frightening $10,600,000. Although the program still operates in the black, the net profit is fast disappearing due to the ravages of inflation, increased operational costs and the dramatic growth of women's sports.

Hindman became Director of Athletics in May, 1977. He has been a member of the Buckeye athletic staff since 1963, serving seven years as an assistant football coach, and seven years as an Associate Director of Athletics.

His goal as Director is "to have a program that reflects both quantity and quality. We want to afford as many students as possible the opportunity to compete in intercollegiate athletics, and we want each and every one of our teams to be competitive."

The athletic facilities at Ohio State are excellent and are undergoing constant upgrading. With the completion of the Mike Peppe Aquatic Center and the Paul G. Benedum Recreation Center in 1977, Ohio State's athletic facilities took another giant stride forward.

Hindman is a native of Columbus and a graduate of North High School. He entered Miami University in 1946 and played four years of varsity football as a guard. He graduated in the spring of 1950 with a B.S. in education.

Hugh began a highly successful coaching career in September of 1950 at Grandview High in Columbus. After three years, he moved to North High, where he coached five years, winning City League titles in 1956 and '57. In 1957, Hindman coached the South All-Stars to a 26-0 upset win over a highly favored North squad.

In 1958, he went to Ohio University as offensive line coach, before moving to Ohio State in 1963.

Hindman acquired an excellent background in athletic administration while serving as associate director. He is active in Big Ten and N.C.A.A. activities, serving on numerous committees. He is a firm believer in the value of competitive athletics kept in proper perspective within the framework of a university.

He recognizes the seemingly endless financial demands to keep a major program going. "It won't be easy, but nothing worthwhile is easy."

Hugh and his wife, Nancy, have three daughters, Karen, Melanie and Melissa.

JAMES JONES—ASSOC. DIRECTOR OF ATHLETICS

James Jones

James Jones has been a member of the Athletic Department since 1967 and an employee of Ohio State University since 1965. The first two years he taught in the Physical Education Department. Two years later he joined the Athletic Department as academic counselor. In 1970 he was named Assistant Director of Athletics and in 1977 he became Senior Associate Director.

As Associate Director, his chief duties include administration of the grant-in-aid program; rules interpretation, especially in the areas of eligibility and recruiting; maintenance of the physical plant and individual travel.

Jones is a 1958 graduate of Kent State University, with a major in mathematics. After graduation, he taught mathematics and coached football and basketball both on a junior high and senior high level.

In 1964, Jones went to Ball State University and earned a master's degree. The following year he came to Ohio State.

Jim and his wife, Linda, have two children, son Bill and daughter Lynnae.

RICHARD DELANEY—ASSOC. DIR. OF ATHLETICS

Richard Delaney

Richard Delaney joined The Ohio State University staff in 1970 as Assistant Director of Athletics. He was named Associate Director in July of 1977. His chief duties are to conduct special programs, especially the National Youth Sports Program and the Buckeye Summer Sports Camp. He serves as supervisor of the Ice Rink, coordinator of the work-study program, administers the book-loan program, coordinates team travel and is adviser to the cheerleading squad.

Delaney came to Ohio State with a rich background in the operation of youth recreation and settlement house sports programs. He conducted recreation programs in Akron, Chicago and Cleveland before joining The Ohio State staff.

Delaney is a native of Akron and a 1954 graduate of Western Reserve University. As an undergraduate, he played football and basketball.

He returned to Case-Western Reserve in 1969. He served as assistant football coach for two years and was head basketball coach one season. He earned a master's degree in 1970.

He and his wife, Albena, have two sons, Keenan and Kevin.

PHYLLIS BAILEY—ASSOC. DIR. OF ATHLETICS

Phyllis Bailey

Phyllis Bailey was named Assistant Director of Athletics in July of 1975 and Associate Director in July of 1977. Her duties are to supervise and coordinate the rapidly expanding women's athletic program at The Ohio State University.

Miss Bailey has been a member of the Ohio State faculty since the fall of 1956. In 1959 she continued to teach but also became Associate Director of Recreation, Intramurals and Intercollegiate Sports for Women.

It was during this period that the women's intercollegiate athletic program was experiencing rapid growth. Presently there are 12 sports for women at The Ohio State University and the number of participants is increasing dramatically. With the advent of a grant-in-aid program for women in the fall of 1976, continued growth and expansion are assured.

Miss Bailey is a graduate of Miami University in the class of 1948. Following graduation she was a physical education instructor at Earlham College for three years. During this time she took graduate work at Indiana and earned a master's degree in 1951.

She went to Wayne State University to teach in women's physical education for five years before coming to Ohio State University in 1956.

DON COOK—DEVELOPMENT OFFICER

Don Cook

Don Cook has served in various administrative positions with The Ohio State University since 1966. In July, 1977, he was named Development Officer. In this role, he works with the University Development Fund on behalf of raising funds for the Athletic Department.

Cook is the first fund raiser to represent the Athletic Department. Prior to Cook's assignment, there had been no fund raiser and no fund procurement program to help athletics.

A native of Celina, Ohio, Don graduated from Bowling Green in 1958 with a degree in education. After college, he taught school and later served as assistant principal and finally as principal. In 1963 he earned a master's degree from Bowling Green.

Cook came to Ohio State in 1966 as Assistant Director of Admissions for the Graduate School. In 1969 he was named Associate Director in charge of Professional Admissions.

In 1971, Don joined the Development Fund staff as coordinator of the Presidents Club.

Don and his wife, Sharon, have two daughters, Amy and Kelle.

HEAD ACADEMIC COUNSELOR—LARRY ROMANOFF

Larry Romanoff

Larry Romanoff has been Head Academic Counselor in the Athletic Department since June, 1976. His chief duties are to work with the student-athletes in the areas of curriculum, progression toward a degree and individual course help.

Romanoff is a native of Toledo and a graduate of Ottawa Hills High School. He entered Ohio State in the fall of 1969 and graduated in 1974 with a dual degree, a B.A. in the College of Arts and Sciences and a B.S. in Education. His major was social science. Following graduation from Ohio State, he went to Ohio University and earned a Masters in Sports Administration.

Larry and his wife, Debbie, have a daughter, Jennifer.

ASSISTANT COUNSELOR—CHARLES BROWNING

Charles Browning

Charles Browning has been Assistant Academic Counselor since June, 1977. He works directly with the student-athletes with curriculum, scheduling and individual study.

Browning is from Loudonville, Ohio, where he participated in football and track in high school.

He entered Ohio State in the fall of 1971 and took a pre-medical curriculum. After completing course work in this field, he changed majors to physical education. The switch delayed his degree until 1976. He worked in the Intramural Department and entered Graduate School. Browning joined the Athletic Department in 1977 and earned an M.A. degree in the winter of 1980. He is currently working on a Doctoral Degree in Sports Administration.

THE DEFENSE WAS GREAT IN 1979

Heisman Award winner Charles White of Southern California meets a determined Buckeye defensive unit in the Rose Bowl. The line play was extremely rugged in the exciting classic at Pasadena.

Unheralded Tim Sawicki (68), fine Buckeye middle guard, catches Northwestern quarterback Chris Capstran before he can get a pass away.

Rugged Jerome Foster (55) was a standout in Ohio State's strong defensive line. Here he makes a solid hit on Southern California's Charles White in the Rose Bowl.

MORE HIGHLIGHTS IN '79

Vlade Janakievski (13) has made more extra points, 127, and more field goals, 26, than any other Ohio State kicker in history. His remarkable 18 successful field goals in 21 attempts in 1979 made him the top percentage field goal specialist.

Ohio State's chief cause for concern at the beginning of the 1979 season was defense. This proved to be an unnecessary worry as the Buckeye defense gave up only 126 points in 12 games.

Ohio State's rushing attack averaged 250 yards per game while the pass offense averaged 114. The offense scored 390 points. Above, talented Jim Gayle (26) shows fine balance against Illinois.

PLAYERS TO WATCH IN '80

Luther Henson will start on offense after three years at defensive tackle. Big, strong and fast, he figures to be a standout.

Ray Ellis is starting his third year as a regular in the secondary. He made 59 tackles last season.

Tim Sawicki was a major reason why Ohio State's defense was so effective in 1979. He made 58 tackles and stopped opposing backs for a loss 12 times.

Vince Skillings was an all-Big Ten safety last year. He made 63 tackles and intercepted three passes.

Arizona State in 1980

New Arizona State Coach Darryl Rodgers must find a quarterback to replace the departed Mark Malone. Otherwise, the Sun Devils will have a potent offense. All the top running backs and pass receivers are back from last year.

Defensively, seven regulars return to form a solid nucleus. The greatest concern is tackle personnel, where last year's two starters do not return. The defensive team features quickness rather than bulk.

Coach Rodgers says of his offense, "We made tremendous progress from day one to day 20 in spring drills, but it's a new system and we still have a long way to go. We'll stress a balanced attack with our offensive plan dictated by what the opposition gives us."

OHIO STADIUM

The symbol of Ohio State University football is Stadium, a stately, venerable 59-year-old structure has been the home site for Buckeye games since Its unique, double-decked, horseshoe-shaped design been studied by countless architects and designers

Ohio State played its early football at Ohio F with a capacity of 14,000. When the University jo the Western Conference (now the Big Ten) in 1913, p sure for a larger stadium mounted as turn-away cro at Ohio Field became common.

World War I temporarily arrested plans for a new dium, but in 1919 University officials laid plans f dream structure.

In October, 1920, the Stadium campaign officially gan. Alumni, friends of Ohio State, Columbus resid and students supported the cause. More than 13 people pledged gifts totaling 1,083,000 and the dr thus became a reality.

Construction began in August, 1921, and by Sept ber, 1922, the structure was virtually completed.
cost of the Stadium was $1,341,000, an unheard-of fig in those days. The original capacity was 66,210. Cri bitterly chastised Ohio State Athletic Director L. W.
John for such an extravagant facility that had "th sands of seats that would never be filled."

Ohio Stadium was dedicated October 21, 1922 an overflow crowd of 71,385 fans was present.

The capacity of the concrete structure has been g ually increased to 73,349 with the addition of sev rows of seats, narrowing the width of all seats, and creating additional boxes. This, coupled with the dition of south stands and temporary field seats, raised the total seating capacity to 83,112. An additio
1,000 is admitted each game in standing room locatio

Ohio Stadium has unusual design. Towers are loca at each side of the open end. The circumference is o third of a mile and the ground area is ten acres.
Stadium is 752 feet long and 596 feet wide. The hei of the back wall is 98 feet.

There are 56 stairways, 12 ramps and 112 aisles fe ing 81 exits. A capacity crowd can clear the Stadium seven minutes.

With the conclusion of the 1979 season, 21,511, people have watched 324 Ohio State football games, average of 66,393 per game and slightly over the origi capacity.
